

The purpose of this document is to set out the procedure for dealing with any complaints received by Faraday Property Management Limited in relation to property management matters and to ensure that any such complaints are dealt with effectively and properly recorded.

It is recognised that every so often problems do occur which give rise to clients, customers and third parties making a complaint. We will consider complaints regarding the service that is provided by Faraday. In the interests of good customer service and to comply with requirements laid down by the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors, the following procedures are to be followed.

If there is any doubt as to how a complaint should be dealt with, then this complaints procedure must be followed.

WHAT IS A COMPLAINT?

A complaint is deemed to mean any expression of dissatisfaction, oral or written, justified or not, made by an eligible complainant, involving an allegation of financial loss, material distress or material inconvenience, and which is received by Faraday Property Management Limited.

In many cases, it will be obvious when a complaint is received, but all Faraday staff are required to be alert to any less obvious circumstances.

HOW TO MAKE A COMPLAINT

Faraday Property Management Limited has appointed Louise Munday to initially deal with any complaints. Ms Munday can be contacted directly in writing c/o Faraday, Fourth Floor, 20 Red Lion Street, Holborn, London, WC1R 4PS, or via telephone number 020 3206 0066.
